

Winkelman Van Hessen (WvH)

With more than 80 employees and branches in The Hague and Amsterdam, WvH has already been a leading communications consultancy for several decades. Named Agency of the Year in 2008, WvH stands for creative, high-impact communications for clients in all sectors of the business world, culture, health care and education.

About WvH

WvH excels in strategic and creative advice in the fields of brand PR, corporate communications, public affairs, crisis communications and special events. The agency has the experience, networks and scale to achieve this in full. It also offers execution of an excellent standard. Communication programmes are realised by efficient teams that work proactively and can switch fast.

A breath of fresh air

Founders Ton Winkelman and Ralph van Hessen wanted to form an agency that would be a breath of fresh air for its clients. An agency with a unique blend of marketing and public relations expertise. An agency that is business-oriented and creative, professional and effective. An agency that is great to work for and to work with. There is always more that can be done, but we are well on track towards that goal. Since 1 January 2010, Carien Mulder and Hanneke Verburg have formed the Managing Board.
